Note from the Chairperson

Welcome to the Annual Report of Social Justice Ireland. This report covers the period from 1 September 2023 to 31 August 2024. It marks the completion of Social Justice Ireland's first year of operation under new leadership: the current CEO, John McGeady, and the current Company Secretary, Board-member Connor Barry (who is unremunerated), took up their posts in September 2023, following the retirement of the outgoing CEO (Dr Seán Healy) and Deputy CEO (Sr Brigid Reynolds, who also had served as Company Secretary). In addition, other significant personnel changes in the staff team took place during the year. An important net effect of these changes was a certain reduction in the staff complement available to carry out the work of Social Justice Ireland. At the same time, as expected, salary costs rose, given that the outgoing CEO and Deputy CEO, though working full-time in their posts, had been largely unremunerated while the current CEO post carries a salary at the standard level for an NGO of the type and size of Social Justice Ireland.

It is greatly to the credit of the Social Justice Ireland team that it has risen to the challenges offered by these new conditions and has come through the year in robust good health. Reductions in activity and income were likely as a result of staff changes but these have been kept to a minimum. The expectation is that they will be made good in the year now underway. At the same time, careful control of expenditure has kept the annual income and expenditure account in the black. Given the circumstances, these are significant achievements and testify to the capability and commitment of the management and staff team. They also set the scene for an upward trajectory in the organisation as the management and personnel changes of the past year bed in.

Given that the government's five-year term in office was due to end in February 2025 at the latest, preparation and planning within Social Justice Ireland for the upcoming general election loomed large in the organisation's work programme for the year. The updated edition of the annual Socio-Economic Review was completed on schedule early in 2024 and this provides the analytical foundation for the advocacy campaign for the general election that has been devised and put in motion since then. The aims of this campaign are to nudge the pre-election party manifestos in the direction of social justice and to help inject social justice policies into the programme for government that the election winners will draw up after the votes are counted.

In many ways, the context is extraordinarily good: we have a growing economy, full employment, a large youth population and a surplus of revenue over spending in the public finances. Yet, the challenges for the social justice agenda are also great. Poverty and social exclusion are proving stubbornly hard to eliminate and grave weaknesses in infrastructure and social services blight the lives of many people, especially those on the margins. This Annual Report shows that Social Justice Ireland is as committed as ever to analysing these challenges, coming up with workable solutions, and energetically promoting its ideas among policy makers and the public at large. The leadership in Social Justice Ireland may have been new in the year covered by this Annual Report, but the Report shows that the old mission, values and energy live on and continue to make their contribution to furthering the common good.

Tony Fahey,

Chairperson

Mission and Values

Social Justice Ireland works to build a just and sustainable society. We do this by:

- Researching to produce coherent, independent, evidence-based social analysis which:
 - identifies policy pathways towards a just and sustainable society,
 - addresses the structural causes of injustice, whether these be economic, political, cultural or social, and
 - promotes core societal values of human dignity, sustainability, equality, human rights and the common good.
- Communicating our analysis and that of others, to inform the public, academia and politics, and to advocate for a just and sustainable society across all relevant local, national and international public policy areas.
- Empowering other societal actors, by facilitating initiatives and working in partnership with citizens, organisations and institutions which share our goals, whether in Ireland, the EU or globally.
- Organising a modern, efficient, financially sustainable, and regulatory compliant charitable organisation.

Values

Social Justice Ireland envisages a just and sustainable society where human rights are respected, human dignity is upheld, human development is promoted and the environment is respected and protected.

Social Justice Ireland understands justice as a harmony that comes from fidelity to right relationships between people, institutions and the environment. In carrying out our work we adhere to the following values:

- Excellence: We will be a centre of excellence, credible and effective in all that we do.
- Leadership: We will be visionary about an achievable sustainable future, unwavering in pursuit of our goals, while remaining responsive and adaptive to the evolution of the political, policy or public opinion environment.
- Collaboration: We will engage and respond in a spirit of dialogue with all societal actors. We will speak in a language appropriate to particular audiences, and draw on the work and evidence of our members.
- Independence: We will be independent in our mission, research and analysis of policy.

Core Programmes

To ensure both effectiveness and efficiency in our work and to achieve our strategic objectives, Social Justice Ireland has three programmes, each with a number of projects. These programmes address:

- 1) Public Policy and Research
- 2) Empowerment
- 3) Communications

Work Programme 2023-2024

The Strategic Plan of Social Justice Ireland covers the period 2020-2025. A work programme is developed each year on the basis of this plan. The following pages outline the work done during the past year, covering the period 1 September 2022 to 31 August 2023. The work is summarised under each of the three Core Programmes, Public Policy & Research; Empowerment and Communications.

Conference and webinars

- We live-streamed our response to Budget 2024 and the launch of Budget Choices 2025. We held our 2023 annual Social Policy Conference online. We also held webinars to launch 'Measuring Progress: Sustainable Progress Index 2024', and 'Social Justice Matters 2024'.

Website

- Social Justice Ireland's new website has had a very positive response with much favourable comment on its content and the quality of what is being presented.

News releases

- Social Justice Ireland issued 16 news releases during the year; some were promoting our publications and events, while others were responding to developments and highlighting our position on various issues.

Electronic and Print Media Coverage

Social Justice Ireland engaged with the media, print and electronic, so as to promote the outcomes we sought in the various issues raised. In the past year we are aware of the following coverage in the media:

- We have featured in national and local broadcast media 127 times in the period of this annual report.
- 6 TV interviews broadcast on news and current affairs programmes.
- The Social Justice Ireland YouTube channel hosts our online content including social policy conference, webinar, PPN and MA in Social Justice and Public Policy.
- 46 interviews on National Radio news and current affairs programmes.
- 75 interviews on Local Radio current affairs programmes.
- Over 50 stories in the National press including 2 editorials and 4 op-ed articles across all broadsheet title, one regional newspapers group and two tabloid titles.
- 76 online newspaper articles.
- We are aware of a number of articles in the Local press but don't have the resources to track them.

Social Media

- Our combined social media footprint is now 32,000.

Podcast

- We released 21 podcasts in the reporting year. Our podcasts take one of three formats – our SJI Interview Series, where we interview experts on a range of policy topics; our SJI Seminar Series, where we take a look back at presentations from our various conferences and seminars; and our SJI Ten Minute Lessons Series, where we provide a brief overview by way of introduction to some policy issues.

Evaluation, Impacts and Outcomes

Evaluation is an ongoing process where great attention is given to outcomes and impacts. It is carried out in the following phases:

- a) The weekly team meetings where specific projects are reviewed in relation to inputs and outputs. The short-term impacts and outcomes (both planned and unexpected) are assessed. The learnings are noted.
- b) The annual 'think-in' by the team provides an opportunity to reflect on these learnings and the medium-term outcomes when planning the following year's work.
- c) The sub-committees of the Board monitor the activities within their areas of interest.
- d) At its regular meetings, the Board reviews the report by the staff on outcomes and impacts of recent and current activities.
- e) A thoughtful and well-focused preparation ensures that the annual think-in by the Board gives space for medium to long-term evaluation of outcomes and impacts.

Proposals for the Future

The work of Social Justice Ireland for the coming year will be in the service of our Strategic Plan 2020-2025 and preparing for our next strategic plan 2026-2030.
